My Room, My Haven

Over the years I have bought and collected all sorts of silly items to decorate my room. There are posters as tall as you stand, several black lights, and a bumping stereo that all give my room its unique style. Although my room is very small, it easily holds all the stuff I need to relax and feel right at home. The black lights add a lot of character to the room. A light blue lava lamp is the only light that remains on while I sleep.

A small variety of posters that represent my interests fill every wall. These pictures were collected over time from magazines, and some were given to me by my friends. One can easily tell what type of music I listen to by looking at the posters on my walls. Such artists as Matt Bellamy from Muse, the whole crew of Coldplay, and an almost life size picture of Jared Leto from 30 seconds to Mars, all give the room a nice touch of style. You can see a few pictures of cars on the walls. Although my favourite car is not shown, several cars that I find appealing are displayed.

I must mention my computer. I do lots of things on it: surf the Internet, chat with my mates and listen to music. With its four separate speakers it provides perfect surround sound. The system sounds great at volume. Yet I rarely use it to anywhere near its potential. There are several cacti on my computer desk. My friends keep giving them to me because they say I'm like a cactus myself: not very friendly outside, but full of nice surprises.

My room is my haven. I have everything I could need in it. Many have complimented me on my lighting effects and on my choice of posters. I look forward to the day when I move into my own house. There, my room will be more than twice as large as it is now. Who knows what I'll do then...
